(BULLETIN)

KENTON, O., Nov. 10.—A death toll of 11 or 12 persons was counted today in the wreckage of a Pennsylvania passenger train which hurtled from the tracks at Dunkirk, nine miles north of Kenton.

At least 44 others were injured and taken to Kenton hospitals.

Nine bodies were removed from the wreckage, and Hardin County Coroner J. A. Mooney said that there were "at least two or three more" victims still in the twisted remains of one smashed coach.

"Apparently there was some defect in the engine," Dr. Mooney said. "It left the rails at a 'Y' switch about 1,000 feet west of the control tower, careened down the right-of-way and smashed into the tower."

"The second coach behind the engine, which piled up crosswise to the tracks with the front end to the north, crashed on past, and the front of the engine ripped out the coach's entire right side. All of the dead were taken from this coach and there are at least two or three more bodies still in the mangled steel at its rear."

Snow fence erection is well under way along the highways of the county. In many places the fences are already in place, ready for the first call for service.

Quite a lively snow storm was experienced in the vicinity of Leesburg Sunday evening, tops of barns, houses, etc., being completely covered with a coating of snow.

Skating ponds around the county are being filled up preparatory to the first freeze of the season.

Over the week-end there was quite a demand for anti-freeze for radiators as the temperature dropped below the freezing point for the first time this fall.

Passersby on Grimes street Saturday afternoon wondered where the loud "music" was coming from. A piano was setting on the porch of a home, and a couple of children were thumping on the keys.

On the front lawn of a home in the 500 block of East Long avenue, buds were well formed on a lilac bush, also a few little blossoms could be seen. Owen Fox states that this will be hard on the bush, as when LONDON, Nov. 10.—All Britain today celebrated another major sea triumph—the complete extermination of a double Axis convoy by four British warships almost within sight of Italy's southern coast.

In a lightning attack, the admiralty announced, the British war vessel sent 10 supply ships and at least one escorting Italian destroyer to the bottom of the Mediterranean.

The communique added a second Italian destroyer was seriously damaged and a third was seen in tow. The British vessels and their personnel came through unscathed from what Prime Minister Winston Churchill called a "most important and timely action."

Brilliant Exploit
Terming the attack a "brilliant and determined exploit," the admiralty said the British squadron—the 5,270-ton cruisers Penelope and Aurora and the 1,920-ton de-

(International News Service)

ROME, Nov. 10.—The Italian high command conceded in a war bulletin today that a British naval division sank two Italian destroyers and seven merchant ships in an attack on a convoy in the Mediterranean.

The announcement said Italian torpedo planes scored hits on a British cruiser and destroyer.

Editor's note: The British admiralty communique on the encounter said the British warships sank 10 supply ships and one Italian destroyer, damaging a second destroyer and forcing a third to be taken under tow. This account said the British vessels emerged from the engagement without a scratch.

A third Italian destroyer which was hit in the engagement "returned to port without serious damages," the communique said, adding that many men aboard the sunken vessels were rescued.

The Italian communique added that 10 persons were killed in a new British air raid on the port of Naples and that some residents were wounded in a raid on Messina.

An Italian submarine was credited with sinking 25,000 tons of shipping in the Atlantic, bringing the total oceanic score of Italian submarines to more than 500,000 tons.

Japan Is Given Warning On U. S. Clash By Britain

CHURCHILL MAKES DECLARATION TODAY

Prime Minister Also Points
Out Growing Strength
Of British Navy

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Great Britain will declare war upon Japan within an hour of any clash involving Japan with the United States, Prime Minister Winston Churchill announced today.

In the course of a long speech at the annual Lord Mayor's luncheon at the mansion house in which he disclosed for the first time that Britain has now achieved air parity with Nazi Germany, Churchill said: "We do not know whether efforts of the United States to preserve peace in the Pacific will be successful."

Will Follow Quickly

"But if they fail, I take this occasion to say—and it is my duty to say—that should the United States become involved in war with Japan, a British declaration will follow within an hour."

Prolonged cheering greeted his forthright announcement. Churchill revealed Britain's amazing spurt in air power in these words:

"Now we have an air force which is at least equal in size and number—not to speak of quality—to the German air force."

This warning to Japan, the strongest yet voiced by the British government, was coupled with disclosure that the British navy is now strong enough to send reinforcements to the Pacific or Indian oceans should further spread of hostilities render it necessary. Churchill frankly predicted that the war may soon spread "to the remaining fourth of the globe"—an obvious reference to the western hemisphere.

"We stretch out the long arm of brotherhood and motherhood to the Australian, New Zealand and Indian people," he said.

"It is practical proof" to all who have eyes to see that the forces of freedom and democracy have not by any means reached the limit of their power."

Reject Peace Offensive

Referring to the possibility of a new Nazi peace offensive, Churchill gave advance notice that Britain and her allies would reject it automatically.

"Viewing the vast and somber scene as dispassionately as possible," Churchill said, "it would seem a very hazardous adventure for the Japanese people to plunge quite needlessly into a world struggle in which they would find themselves—in which they may well find themselves—opposed in the Pacific by states whose population comprises nearly three-quarters of the human race."

With regard to the Mediterranean, Churchill said: "Passage of our supplies in many directions through that sea and the

Over 100 Bombers Pound Hamburg

German Port Is Heavily Attacked

Other Nazi Held Ports Are Also Bombed During Night Attacks

NAZI FLIERS MAKE ATTACK ON BRITAIN

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 10.—More than 100 British bombers hammered the great German port of Hamburg and other shipping centers along the German Nazi-occupied continental coast, the air ministry announced today.

Some of Britain's heaviest bombers participated in the attacks, which authorities described as successful. "Hamburg was subjected to a concentrated attack last night," the air ministry communique said. "Large fires were started at the docks."

Cuxhaven, Emden and the docks of Dunkirk and Ostend also were bombed. More than 100 bombers were engaged in the attacks. Two are missing."

Berlin, Nov. 10.—R. A. F. bombers attacked northwestern Germany during the night, killing and injuring several civilians but causing no military damage, the high command announced today.

Several waves of German planes bombed a port on the southeast coast of England, causing extensive fires and explosions, the communique said.

destroyers Lance and Lively—dashed to the battle despite the fact they were considerably outgunned.

They opened fire on the axis vessels a few miles south of Taranto, Italy, although the enemy supply ships were protected by two 10,000-ton Italian cruisers of the Trento class and a large number of Fascist destroyers.

The Italian cruisers mount eight-inch guns, while the British cruisers Aurora and Penelope are equipped only with six-inch weapons.

"Despite this disparity," the admiralty said, the British force under command of Capt. Agnew pounced on the fully-loaded axis supply ships before they could form a single procession across the central Mediterranean in an attempt to reach Libya under cover of darkness.

Nine Ships Sunk Quickly

Nine of the 10 axis vessels were sunk swiftly and the tenth—a 10,000-ton tanker—was left to burn for at least 10 hours until it was a "total loss". Thus, British naval quarters said, the attacking squadron scored the biggest victory over an axis convoy thus far in the entire war.

The British vessels escaped without a trace of damage, the admiralty stated, although they were "effectively" attacked by Italian torpedo planes as they sailed from the scene of their triumph.

In less than an hour, it was reported, nine of the axis ships went down in flames and the tenth was enveloped in roaring flames, evidently with heavy loss of life.

The Fascist destroyer sent to the bottom was the 13th Italian destroyer sunk since Italy entered the war.

The victory brought to at least 97 and probably 108 the number of axis supply and naval vessels wiped out in the Mediterranean since Aug. 1 by British submarines, planes and warships.

REDS READY FOR NEW ONSLAUGHT UPON MOSCOW

Bondarev, aided by 20,000 to 30,000 reinforcements, had attacked toward Schlossberg, east of Leningrad with the object of establishing strong positions in the Lake Ladoga area.

Expect New Nazi Attack
Chief attention centered on the Moscow front, where within a few days it was expected the Nazis would launch perhaps a supreme and final drive against the capital before the severe Russian winter begins.

The Moscow radio announced that the Germans were bringing up additional reserves and that a "new furious offensive will be launched in the next few days on the approaches to the capital."

Earlier a special bulletin broadcast from Moscow said that on Thursday an attempt by 500 German bombers to blast the beleaguered capital into submission had been beaten back while Premier Josef Stalin was delivering his "war of extermination" speech.

Report 34 Shot Down

Thirty-four of the Nazi bombers were shot down, according to this announcement, and none of the others succeeded in reaching the city.

According to the Soviet radio, charging Russian cavalry squadrons recaptured an important village near Volokolamsk, while around Serpukhov, south of Moscow, Red army tank and infantry units continued to push back the enemy, killing or wounding 1,100 Nazis.

The midnight communique reported fighting along the entire front, with particularly fierce battles in the Crimea. In the Crimean peninsula, Russian forces were reported resisting massive Axis blows against the approaches of Sevastopol, Black Sea naval base, and Kerch, eastern Crimean port, facing the west coast of the Caucasus.

The train was Pennsylvania's "No. 78". It left Chicago at 5:30 p. m. CST Sunday, carrying 77 passengers and a crew of 21, and was due in New York City at 11:30 a. m. EST today.

rail by a cylinder head blown off a freight train going the opposite direction on a parallel track.

(The passenger train struck the heavy casting before it could be flagged to a stop, Newcomst said, "derailing and turning over the engine and wrecking the eight cars on the passenger train.")

The control tower was set afire but the control operators escaped uninjured. However, the train fireman was killed and the engineer, R. H. Schuler of Ft. Wayne, Ind., was seriously injured.

Dr. Mooney fixed the time of the derailment at 10:19 p. m. (EST).

Some Unidentified

The bodies of three of the victims, all women, were unidentified. The others whose bodies were recovered were identified as:

J. L. Gephart, Ft. Wayne, Ind., fireman on the train.
Ernest E. Housenicht, 616 Iriquois street, Freeport, Ill.

Ensign C. G. Blade, Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Ill.
N. L. Kay of Milwaukee, Wis.

Robert Ray, 35, address unknown.

Mrs. Margaret Rill, 54, 1530 W. San Carlos street, San Jose, Calif.

T. A. Scott, conductor, said there were 113 passengers on the train, the Chicago-to-New York "Pennsylvanian", in addition to the train crew.

In addition to the coach where the fatalities occurred, which was virtually sliced in two, another coach, three Pullmans, a lounge car, and a diner were derailed, with only the last car of the train, a Pullman, remaining on the tracks.

Towerman's Story

Roy Schwartzkopf, operator of the control tower into which the locomotive smashed, and his assistant, Buckey Davis, who clambered down to safety from the tower, told a story which strengthened one theory that the locomotive may have thrown a set of its wheels. A set of wheels was found some distance from the signal tower.

"I noticed the headlight of the train swerving back and forth and swaying from side to side," Schwartzkopf said. "It started to weave about 400 or 500 feet from our tower. As it came nearer, it turned sidewise and started to tear up the track, as if its wheels were loose or even off."

Except for the locomotive and the one coach, damage to the train was not great. Many of the injured were believed to have been injured only slightly by being thrown from their seats or berths as the various cars jumped the tracks.

All the injured were brought to Kenton hospitals, and hospital attendants said apparently only a few were badly hurt. One of the most seriously injured was the engineer of the train, H. R. Schuler of Fort Wayne.

The train was Pennsylvania's "No. 78". It left Chicago at 5:30 p. m. CST Sunday, carrying 77 passengers and a crew of 21, and was due in New York City at 11:30 a. m. EST today.

broken morale of the Italian navy show that we are still masters there."

Editor's note: The British admiralty over the week-end announced annihilation of two Italian convoys consisting of 11 ships in the Mediterranean.

He continued: "Owing to the effective help we are getting from the United States in the Atlantic, owing to the sinking of the Bismarck, owing to the competition of our splendid new battleships and aircraft carriers of the largest size, as well as the cowering of the Italian navy, I am now able to announce that we feel ourselves strong enough to provide powerful naval forces of heavy ships with the necessary auxiliary vessels for service, if need, in the Indian and Pacific oceans."

"We hope for peace," he added, "but Britain has taken every precaution to preserve the common cause in the Pacific."

Japan Warned

Churchill warned Japan of the disparity between her own production and those of the United States and Britain.

"If steel is the foundation of modern war," he said, "it would be rather dangerous for a power like Japan, whose steel production is only about 7,000,000 tons a year, to provoke gratuitously a struggle with the United States, whose production is now about 90,000,000 tons a year, and I take no account of the powerful contribution which the British empire can make in various ways."

"I hope devoutly that the peace of the Pacific will be preserved in accordance with the known wishes of the wisest statesmen of Japan."

"But every preparation to defend British interests in the Far East and defend the common cause now at stake has been and is being made."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

QUESTION OF ALLOWANCE DISCUSSED.

In his "Return to Religion," Dr. Henry Link states that children should not have allowances, but should earn their money. He bases this assertion on the fact that by investigation he found that more children who earned their own money ranked high in good traits personality than those who did not.

The untrained reader of his statement, like the man who made it, fails to realize that the few children who find the only jobs available, do so chiefly because they are more self-reliant and industrious, and have more initiative, no doubt. In other words, the jobs tended to select those who had the better personality traits already.

The facts Link found about these few children tell us nothing about the many times more larger group of children who, in order to earn money, would have to have jobs created for them. It would seem, indeed, that the results tend to be very different.

Some parents, sharing Dr. Link's point of view, pay their children for helping about the home. When they do that, how is the child to feel he is a responsible, contributing member of the family? How is he to get best values of consciously sharing in the family experiences and obligations?

If, moreover, he is paid for everything he does about the home, his parents are inclined, when he neglects his tasks, to scold or punish him—not really to scold or punish him for not getting paid, for not earning his pay.

Whether the child is paid or given an allowance, some parents will punish the child by docking him on his earnings or allowance, and this soon plays havoc with any definite money program. A good budget plan is based on the budget idea, on a definite amount. The moment money is subtracted (as by punishment) or added (as by rewards or gifts) this budget plan is upset.

Advantages Of An Allowance. Assuming that the average child, until he is normally able to earn wages, should have an allowance, some of the advantages over doing it out as he needs or demands money are these:

1. He can plan ahead and more easily learn to spend systematically.
2. He can feel so much more self-respecting, self-reliant and independent. A high school girl coming to her father in the presence of a guest, to ask for a quarter to (Continued On Page Five)

THE TAX SYSTEM

This new federal tax act hits Mr. Average Citizen at numerous spots in his daily life. Just to indicate how the schedule touches him in the course of a day:

Mr. Average Citizen starts his day using taxed soap for his bath, and taxed cream for his shave. He has his breakfast out of a taxed refrigerator. He drives to his office in a use-taxed car, on taxed tires. There he makes a taxed long distance call, sends a number of taxed telegrams, pays his taxed club dues, meantime using his glasses, he goes to his bank and gets some papers out of his taxed safety deposit box. Having to make a brief business trip, he parks his taxed luggage, buys a taxed plane ticket and, while waiting for departure, plays a taxed coin machine. Arriving at his destination he pays a taxed cabfare to his hotel where, before dinner, he has a taxed highball. He sends a show, paying a taxed admission price, drops in at a billiard parlor, playing on a taxed table. He then visits a night club, takes a taxed drink and bit of taxed food, paying a taxed check. He buys his wife a piece of taxed jewelry, and picks up a few taxed phonograph records. Returning to his hotel (Continued On Page Five)

"My 18-year-old nephew, who seems to be very popular with the girls, is not very polite to his sister. Won't you write a piece on the importance of being polite at home, as well as among strangers?"—Mother.

Answer: So many people complain that they find it more difficult to get along with their families than they do with strangers. Little wonder, when lack of home politeness is so rampant and a great contributing factor to much intra-family discord. Many of us feel that courtesy is like finery—something to be donned only on special occasions. We make a special effort to be gracious to those whom we do not care to impress? If we think Sister Mary's hat unbecoming, we unhesitatingly tell her so. A stranger would be given the benefits of silence. Answer: The soloist, the organist and the maid-of-honor should all wear street-length dresses, since you, yourself, will so dress. Your mother should wear a light dress preferably. Black is not recommended at a wedding, especially for the bride's mother.

Civilian Producers Make Accusation
Accuse Uncle Sam Of Storing Material
Claim Government Is Being Unreasonable

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Producers of goods for civilian use, mustn't lay in big supplies of raw materials that, left loose on the market, would be available for defense and lease-lend production.

There's a natural tendency on the part of makers of stuff for civilian customers, exclusively, to do their raw material buying now, when there's some of it still to be had, in order to have it stashed away, for processing when the pinch gets tighter, maybe to the point of 100 per cent tightness.

Well, Bill Knudsen's Office of Production Management and other defense agencies have served notice that this isn't permissible.

If the non-defense confers persist in it, the government will grab some of their supplies as it needs, whenever it requires 'em. It will pay for 'em, but at no such figures as the civilian commodities manufacturers presumably expect to get for their finished output later.

From many of these companies' representatives now comes the howl that the government itself is doing exactly what it's warning them not to do—it's accumulating stores vastly in excess of its necessities of today and far on into the future. Steel's one of the items mentioned. Uncle Sam has enough of it, it's asserted, to last him for at least a year and a half, while they're threatened with the unavailability of immediate shut-downs due to the absolute lack of it.

It was estimated some time ago that 20,000 civilian goods factories would be forced into suspension in the face of the situation then. Today's estimates run as high as twice that number.

Ah, say the government's spokesmen, but look at the prodigious increase in demands from the anti-Axis powers were helping.

Demands Much Greater. Initially it was reckoned that it would be up to us to double our plants' production for their benefit and our own defense. Present calculations run as high as a multiplication of their capacities about ten times.

Priority seekers from little non-defense corporations simply swarm in Washington, and get nowhere. Their applications total around 5,000 weekly. If they definitely were turned down, they at least would be disposed of, but, in general, they never get to the right official's desk, but simply are shunted from one functionary to another, each professing to be the wrong chap to consider the matter.

With a view to straightening out some of the confusion the commerce department is advocating a contact between the emergency agencies and the country's trade associations rather than with individuals. As a matter of fact, the Office of Production Management and newer setups are in communication with about 500 of these associations, but they total approximately 8,000, so that not much more than a beginning's being made.

Civilian consumerism, it's recognized, scarcely has begun to feel the pinch yet, but it's foreseen that the uproar will be something awe-inspiring as the famine in all sorts (Continued On Page Five)

An Untimely Tea

ON the sound ground that the defeat of Hitler is more essential to the welfare of the United States and the world than any other conceivable thing, the new billion-dollar credit and other aid for Russia can be fully justified. However, justification can be found only on that ground. There is no other. But that, of course, is enough.

NEVERTHELESS, neither the gallant fight the Russians are making; nor the great cost to Hitler of his Russian gains; nor the advantage to the British and ourselves of these four months in which the Nazi forces have been concentrated upon a new foe; nor the recent brilliant reception at the Russian Embassy, should make us forget certain fundamental facts about the Communist leaders and the Communist aims, methods and character. Chief among these facts is that Stalin, inherently, is just as great a liar and just as ruthless a villain as Hitler.

HE is not as great an immediate menace to us from the outside, but inside he has been, and may easily again become, a greater. His word is no more to be trusted and the things for which he stands are just as abhorrent to the American way of life as is the Nazi creed. For years his agents have worked within this country to destroy American institutions and promote revolution and chaos. At the moment they are our allies, but a short while ago they were linked in friendship with Hitler, working for him here as well as in Europe, opposing the lend-lease bill and the Roosevelt policy of aid to the British.

IT is our interest to help them now, and we ought to do it. But we ought also to keep our heads clear and our memories bright. More-over, under the circumstances, (Continued On Page Five)

Not alone the consumers and small manufacturers and the latter's employees are due to catch it, but retail merchandising will do so also, it's predicted, as shelves are left bare of most of the articles that customers are in the habit of buying.

National Price Fixer Leon Henderson is quite aware that his worries will multiply then, too, in the same ratio that defense and lend-lease production goes, with civilian production shrinking correspondingly.

Checking Buyers Difficult

It's agreed that perhaps a merchant can be prevented from hiking his price tags, out how can would-be buyers be prevented from bidding against one another, regardless of what the tags say? Such competition's forbidden under penalty in a European country or two, but it's conceded that it must be almost impossible to suppress in the matter of a multitude of petty transactions.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. "Why won't rebuke and punishment work to cure thumb-sucking and nail-biting?"

A. In neither can punishment be immediate and without exception. Besides, nail-biting usually, and thumb-sucking occasionally, occurs when the child is most tense and excited. Nail-biting nearly always is a sign of nervousness. Rebukes and punishment, being ineffective, render this child more nervous and more prone, therefore, to bite his nails. The thumb most readily goes to the child's mouth when he seems most in need of comfort. Therefore thumb-sucking is the more likely to occur right after any kind of punishment.

The Great Game Of

while it is intelligent and right to aid the Communists abroad, it is certainly unnecessary to coddle them at home. To this end, it seemed a particularly untimely moment for Mrs. Roosevelt to give a White House tea to stimulate interest in the newly organized Washington Student Service Bureau. This bureau is the local unit of the International Students' Service, which last summer under Mrs. Roosevelt's sponsorship conducted a month's meeting at Campobello, the Roosevelt summer home.

THE guiding spirit of this affair and of the organization was Joseph P. Lash, former executive of the American Student Union, which the Dies committee, back in 1939, branded as Communist in tone and membership. Lash denied before the committee that he was personally a Communist, and he with other officials of the A. S. U. were taken to lunch at the White House by Mrs. Roosevelt during the hearings. A few weeks later the Student Union, guided by Lash, held a convention while the invasion of Finland by Russia was in progress. By an overwhelming vote it rejected a resolution which would have named the Soviet Union as the aggressor. That would seem proof enough of Communist inclination for anyone.

OBSERVERS of the Campobello meeting last summer were disposed to regard Mr. Lash's unpleasant personality as not calculated to commend his cause or himself to any detached person—despite his friendship with Mr. Roosevelt and his frequent White House visits. A number of government officials were invited to the Friday tea by Mrs. Roosevelt in order to interest them in this latest Lash-promoted project. Though Mrs. Roosevelt's motives are always of the noblest, this hardly seemed an auspicious time for another White House gathering of her crusading young friends, who, if not avowedly Communist, are certainly under suspicion of having Communist affiliations. It makes it a little more difficult to enjoy our present Russian alliance.

IN this connection it is also recalled that over three weeks ago, at the request of Attorney General Biddle, Chairman Dies sent to that official a list of 1,124 Federal employees who, he said, were connected with subversive Communist organizations or who advocated the overthrow of the United States Government. Mr. Dies gave names, salaries and titles. He pointed out that 323 of those named drew salaries between $3,000 and $10,000. He declared that this list was far from complete, and that it contained no names of persons in the defense organization, because the investigations there had not been concluded. But twenty of those named by Mr. Dies are in Mr. Biddle's own department.

MR. BIDDLE's request was made because Congress had earmarked a fund of $100,000 to enable his department to investigate Communist activities of Government employees. It is reasonable to assume that Mr. Dies had proof of the specific charges he had made. Anyhow, the American people are entitled to know whether they are true or not. If they are true, it is a great Administration scandal; if they are not true, then that should be known. In any event, the Dies charges must not be ignored. As an administration official it will not be easy for Mr. Biddle to report that Mr. Dies was even partly justified in his charges, though no informed person in Washington has the least doubt of that. There will be pressure on Mr. Biddle either to file away the Dies information and do nothing about it, or, having investigated and found the facts, to minimize or deny them.

HOW he reacts to this will be a real test of the Attorney General. He is an able, agreeable, high-minded man, but whether he has the strength to measure up to this opportunity to demonstrate his caliber remains to be seen. Certainly it would be a good idea to know that the international situation is not giving the Communists and fellow travelers greater opportunities than before to crawl into governmental posts where they can work to undermine the American system.

AN administration house cleaning as a result of the Dies evidence would not hurt the administration—it would do it good. It would not weaken support of the aid-to-Russia policy—it would strengthen it. It would not make for national disunity, but for national unity. And it would make everything in Washington smell a lot better. Perhaps three weeks is too short a time for Mr. Biddle to report on the Dies charges. It is only fair to give him plenty of time, but it is also fair to remind him that they will not be forgotten.

Thanksgiving
Day For State

HARRISBURG, Nov. 10.—Pennsylvania this year again will be listed among those states which observe the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day.

Governor James declined to go along with President Roosevelt's idea of moving Thanksgiving Day up a week—it will be observed on November 20 in a number of other states.

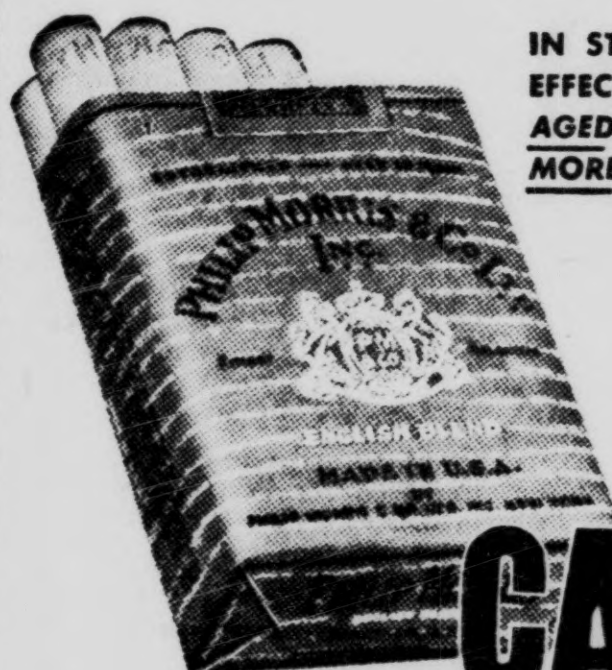

Next year, however, by a new law enacted by Congress, the traditional last Thursday will be observed throughout the nation.

Compiling Facts About Supreme Court Battle

By GEORGE DURNO

International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—A brutally frank history of President Roosevelt's spectacular attempt to reform the United States supreme court by act of congress is in process of assembly.

Forty years, or even more, may elapse before intimate recollections of leaders on both sides of that unparalleled political battle are unsealed for public inspection—but every shade of pertinent fact and opinion will be recorded and filed away in the Franklin D. Roosevelt library at Hyde Park if the compiling agent meets with complete success.

Harry L. Hopkins, presidential right bower, has been spending his spare moments persuading the conflicting key figures to write down, without reservation, their versions of the 1937 upheaval that momentarily threw the executive, judicial and legislative branches of government into such heated debate.

Ultimately, Hopkins is hopeful that all of the participants, or interested observers will make their contribution and pen their private thoughts on the New Deal's challenge to the nation's highest judicial body.

Of Historical Interest

"It seems to me," said Hopkins, "that the supreme court fight will be of major interest to historians in the years to come. It has occurred to me that one of the ways that competent and authentic evidence might be obtained as to exactly what happened during the months the bill was before the senate would be to ask every person who was identified with the court fight, on either side, to write his recollections of the events."

"The persons who presumably would know the course of the bill do not necessarily recall the incidents in the same manner. There is nothing peculiar about this fact. It is a well known phenomenon of history that contemporary observers have written quite conflicting reports about various historical incidents.

"The same will be true of the supreme court fight. But it seems to me that while the actors in that drama are living, they might be given an opportunity of writing their own recollections of all the events, not only leading up to the introduction of the bill, but the course of legislative history and the part they played in it.

"Obviously, to make the evidence valuable, it would have to be available to the public where the observer thought best at a much later date, when all the players would be off the stage. Therefore, the written observations by the various participants would be deposited in the Franklin D. Roosevelt library, which is under the direction of the National Archives, and not open for inspection for many years to come. The statement would, therefore, be entirely secret—shown or seen by have to reconcile whatever conflicting evidence might be found."

NO WONDER ARMY POSTAL CHIEF IS UP IN THE AIR

(International News Service)

PUNTA BORINQUEN, Puerto Rico.—Tip to continental writing soldiers stationed at Aerodrome Borinquen, Uncle Sam's new airbase in Puerto Rico—please get the address right!

Pointing out that "Borinquen" is the original Indian name for Puerto Rico, the Army Postal Chief asked soldiers to inform their continental friends of the correct spelling. In an official order, the Postal Chief, with a note of disgust, disclosed that letters to Aerodrome Borinquen are arriving addressed to such designations as "Borin Quer Field," "Berrie Queen Field," "Buro Can Field" and "Post Berriken." "The right name," the order thunders, "is Aerodrome Borinquen!"

Strikes As Usual Must Be Halted

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The nation's labor leaders must "stop thinking in terms of 'strikes as usual,'" just industrialists must "stop thinking in terms of 'business as usual,'" Sidney Hillman, associate director of the office of production management, maintained today.

Addressing AFL and CIO leaders gathered at a testimonial dinner in honor of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Hillman pointed out that he did not mean that the right to strike should be abolished, but that the right should be held in abeyance until conciliation and mediation efforts have been exhausted.

"The less we use the right to strike now, the more effectively we safeguard it for the future," the former C. I. O. vice-president asserted. "We must be willing to concede certain privileges to the needs of defense now—today, in order to preserve our fundamental rights for all times."

AROUND CITY HALL

City Councilman Joseph D. Alexander today reported to council he had notified an applicant that the city law prohibits a junk yard being located within the city limits. He reported a request had been made by a junk yard dealer to purchase a site on the Steel Mill grounds. Council confirmed his action.

Council today decided to ask the State Highway Department to put Croton avenue extension (across the Rosa site) in good passable condition and to also notify the department heads at Harrisburg the city is willing to build curbs in Taylor street if the department will soon pave Taylor street to a width of 20 feet. Council would like to have the east and west by-pass constructed as soon as possible.

Director of Finance James L. Pink today advised council colleagues the time has arrived for them to sharpen their pencils and begin to compile estimated requirements for the operation of the city government next year. It was reported by his colleagues they would immediately begin to estimate their needs.

When council convened in the city building today members of the city police department presented a petition in which they asked for a wage increase of $20.00 a month. The signers cited the need because of rising taxes and the higher cost of living. The petition was referred to committee of the whole.

Council will meet at 10:30 a. m. December 10 and take testimony relative to the report of viewers concerning the Alexander property, 435 West Grant street, an alleged fire hazard. The council as viewers also reported the property, owned by G. S. Mitchell at 207 South Walnut street, should be repaired or removed.

When council met today a bill was submitted authorizing the construction of a sanitary sewer to connect the NYA center with the East Side main sanitary sewer. It also provides for an inspection and remission of fees. The sanitary sewer connection was built some time ago. Council ordered it closed because it had been reportedly built without a city permit and no inspection had been made. However, the city relented and the sewer was closed only a brief period.

Mercer Co. Mental Patients Will Be Sent To Warren

Hundred Thirty Five To Be Sent From Mercer County Home

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Nov. 10.—Mental patients in the Mercer County hospital will be transferred to the Warren State hospital under the commonwealth's plan for assuming jurisdiction of such cases. Dr. William C. Sandy, chief of the welfare department's mental health bureau, announced.

Sandy said 153 patients will be transferred from Mercer to Warren and about 79 others left at Mercer on parole status, or as sufficiently healthy to remain in the county institution.

Sandy said facilities at the Mercer County institution are limited and not suited to care for patients in need of therapy treatments. The transfer, he said, will cause some extra work at Warren until patients are settled, but additional facilities about to be brought into service there will accommodate the new comers. The welfare department hopes to complete the transfer by the end of November.

Mercer County commissioners were requested to make the 153 transfers. George W. Lawrence, superintendent of the county home and hospital said he does not know how soon they can be made, but announced that work will be speeded. The state will assume care and treatment of mental patients in the county after December 31.

Edward L. Sittler Jr., Pittsburgh insurance man, will address members of the New Castle branch of the Pittsburgh Life Underwriters association at a noon luncheon in The Castleton Thursday, Nov. 13.

Sittler, who will be introduced by Lee J. Greer, president of the branch, is supervisor at Pittsburgh for the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York.

Secret Device Convicts Man

Defective Dimes Taken From Philadelphia Mint Found On Man

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.—As the result of an ingenious use of a secret solution and an ultra violet ray lamp, George John Kraft, 35-year-old employee, today faced charges of stealing defective dimes from the United States mint and spending them as bona fide money.

With two secret service agents, Mint Superintendent Edwin H. Dressel, and Kraft, who was accused of stealing 22 dimes found in his pockets, looking on, one by one the dimes were subjected to the ultra-violet rays. And one-by-one, they came fluorescent.

Seeing this, Kraft confessed: "All right, I stole them." The fluorescence was due to a secret solution into which the mint dips defective coins. Invisible to the eye until subjected to ultra violet rays, the solution labels the coins. They are then stored until they can be remedied.

The agents charged Kraft stole the defective dimes and spent them, not realizing that each coin left a tiny deposit of the dried solution in the lining of his pockets.

Just as the coins showed an uncanal light when placed under the rays, so did the lining of his pockets.

More registrants for the Army are being rejected than ever before.

This is because the young men are critically inspected and tested. The physical, mental and normal standards are high.

Accepted men face a year of strenuous military service. The new soldier is taught personal hygiene and must apply it. He is properly housed and given adequate food and clothing.

He is also required to take supervised physical exercise. Enforced sanitary rules protect him against communicable diseases. If sick or injured, he gets the best possible care in the hospital.

Preventive medicine is practiced by the Army medical men. They stress prophylactic immunization against infectious diseases. The health of the American soldier is being well guarded.

Hints On Etiquette

Whether young women working in the same office should call each other by their given names or say "Miss" depends upon the customs of the particular office. When dealing with outsiders it is probably best to refer to each other as Miss, but out of office hours, or when no stranger is present, first names not only are permissible but more friendly.

TO MARRIED COUPLES WHO NEED EXTRA CASH

How you can get a $100 loan quickly and simply if you can pay back $9.75 a month —No endorsers or guarantors required

WOULD A $100 or $200 loan come in handy this month? Have you old bills you would like to clean up with a loan?

If you have a job, you may borrow up to $300 at Household Finance in a simple, private transaction. Then you may repay your loan in monthly installments arranged to fit your own income and paydays.

3 ways to borrow

Suppose that you need $100. The table shows that 12 monthly installments of $9.75 each will repay a $100 loan in full. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.97 a month will repay a $100 loan in 18 months.

All you do to apply for a Household Finance loan is to tell us how much you need and how you wish to repay. Household Finance loans are made in three ways. First way: On your personal note. No security required. This type of loan is made, when circumstances warrant, to both single persons and married couples. Second way: On your car. This plan may best fit your needs. Third way: On your furniture. This plan is used by thousands. Here character and income are far more important than the value of your security. Your loan will be made the way which best fits your own situation.

Other important points: It is not necessary to ask friends or fellow-workers to act as endorsers. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your money affairs. You get your loan quickly and simply.

Get you. loan for less

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 2 1/2% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100 and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. The Small Loan Law permits us to charge substantially more than this. Some finance companies do charge more. We publish our rates and payments to help you shop for your loan.

If you need money for an emergency, bring your problem to Household. Or just phone and say that you need a loan. We are here to serve you. Phone or visit us without obligation.

Rivers and Harbors Bill Is Under Fire

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The $1,000,000,000 Rivers and Harbors Bill under fire as a pork barrel measure faces the possibility of being hacked to pieces or being killed entirely when it reaches the House floor, some congressional sources predicted today.

After many months of prolonged hearings on nearly 235 individual projects in the omnibus measure including the $400,000,000 St. Lawrence Waterway, the House Rivers and Harbors Committee approved the bill. It is expected to be reported out next Wednesday.

Only 13 members—barely a quorum—were present however at the session which voted to report the controversial measure to the House and this number was secured only when one member was summoned hurriedly from another committee.

Opponents now plan to carry their fight to the floor, with widespread demands existing for governmental economy wherever possible, attempts will be made to amend the omnibus proposal and strike out every project not bearing the label "National Defense."

Supporters of the measure are expected to place most of the projects in this category, however, or at least defend them as part of a necessary back-log of projects to be available when the national emergency is over. They will point out that the bill merely authorizes the various navigation, flood-control and power developments, and does not appropriate funds for actual construction.

Chairman Mansfield (D) Texas confirmed the approach of the storm when he discussed that several minority reports will be filed particularly from committee members who were not present when the decision to report out the bill was taken.

Rep. Belter (D) N. Y., assailed two sections of the measure. One of these, he said, transfers the power facilities of the St. Lawrence Waterway to the New York Power Authority, but permits use of the power by other New England States although New York will be required to assume the $97,000,000 construction cost.

Belter also attacked a provision which, he said, gives the chief of engineers discretion to plan any construct power facilities on authorized dams without consulting the Rivers and Harbors Committee.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 10.—There will be two special elections held next year for congress, in addition to the regular congressional elections next fall at which all of Pennsylvania's 33 congressmen will be elected. The two vacancies in the Pennsylvania delegation will be caused by the election of two Democratic representatives to other posts in the 1941 off-year election. Congressman Joseph McArdle was elected to the Pittsburgh common council while Congressman J. Harold Flannery was elected to the Luzerne county court of common pleas. Both intended to resign their federal posts on January 1. Their terms have still a year to run.

Their elections may be the last ones to be held in congressional districts for another three years, unless a method is found by which the state's districts can be reapportioned in accordance with the 1940 census, which reduced the Pennsylvania delegation by one. The legislature was unable to agree upon a reapportionment bill and a special legislative committee is now attempting to find a solution. The election of Wilson D. Gillette, Republican, in the 15th (Horseshoe) district of northeastern Pennsylvania.

TIRE AND WHEEL BALANCE

Owing to high operating speeds of the modern motor car, proper tire care has become a very important factor in the correct and safe performance of the automobile as the longevity of many moving parts on the car has been found to depend a great deal upon proper balance. So has correct tire performance become dependent upon balancing tires and wheels.

nia, in the Nov. 4 special election there does not change the political tieup of the Pennsylvania delegation in congress. It remains composed of 19 Democrats and 15 Republicans.

Miss Sara M. Soffel, Pennsylvania's first woman judge, will become the first member of her sex to sit on the common pleas bench next January. Judge Soffel was appointed to the Allegheny county court in 1930 by Gov. John S. Fisher. In Tuesday's election the voters elevated her to the Allegheny county court of common pleas. Miss Soffel relates as the funniest incident of her campaign the telephone call she received from a woman worker who criticized her for being married to a "rich husband" and "running for an office someone else might better need." Judge Soffel's reply to that was: "I'm just a nice old maid. In fact, I come from a family of old maids."

The defeat of State Sen. Edward J. Coleman, Lackawanna county Democrat, for the office of mayor of Scranton revives reports that he may be named minority leader in the senate to succeed Sen. Harry Shapiro, who has enemies among his Democratic colleagues. Coleman is liked by all. Shapiro has been in the senate since 1933, when he was elected as a Republican, but went over to the Democratic side several years later. He has been markedly efficient as senate Democratic leader.

Due to the closeness of many elections last Tuesday the absentee soldier vote may decide some of the results. Ballots are awaited from many of the 15,000 national guardsmen, 52,000 selective service men and more than 1,000 reserves now in service outside their normal voting districts.

Home-Coming Day Awards Are Made

Shaffer House, Co-ed Dorm,
And Sigma Phi Epsilon
Frat House, Winners

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 10.—Although Westminster college's football team lost on Saturday to Grove City, the football motif proved successful for two other campus organizations.

Featuring decorations stressing the gridiron theme, the Shaffer House, a co-ed dormitory, and the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity house won the cups given each Homecoming Day to the campus building with the most striking decorations. The award was made on Saturday night, at the dance which climaxed the Homecoming Day festivities.

The idea of decorating fraternity houses and dormitories was started at Westminster three years ago, and since has been an annual feature in the fall. Each house appoints a committee of its members to plan the decorations, with the main idea being to provide an attractive campus setting for returning alumni.

Judges were Dr. Virginia Everett, Harold J. Brennan, Walter Biberich, E. A. Metcalf and Dr. Albert George, all members of the college faculty. Professor Brennan made the presentation to representatives of the winning houses.

A goal post, yard-lines and a giant figure of a football player were outstanding features of the Shaffer house exhibit, while the SPE house decorations showed a scale, with the balance leaning toward the "winning" side, dummies dressed in football suits, and other pigskin features.

"Entertainment" was the general theme of this year's contest, and several houses, among them Kappa Phi Lambda, Russell House, Thompson House and Mack Lodge had excellent exhibits.

Do's and Don'ts about Mattress Buying

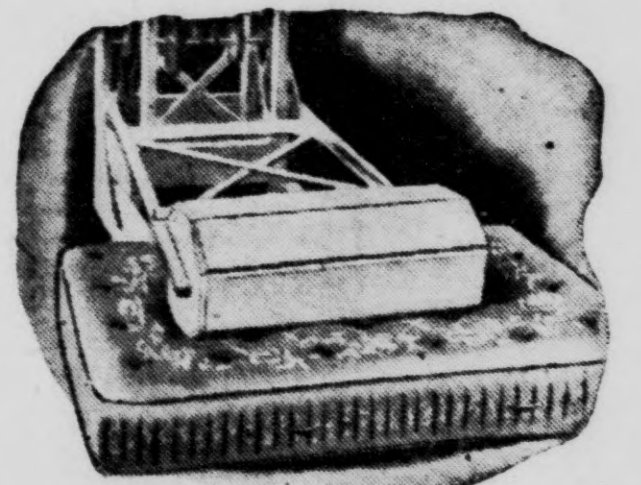

Don't Judge Comfort on Looks!

Most mattresses look comfortable in a store. But there are all kinds of comfort. A mattress made with indifferent "insides" can give you only indifferent comfort. The Beautyrest has a special construction that brings comfort to its most luxurious point.

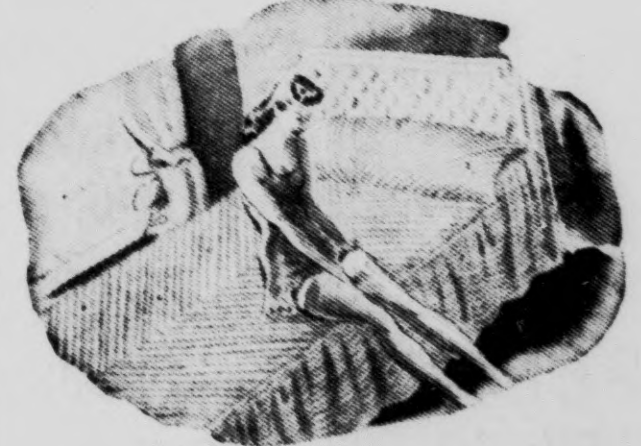

Don't Buy Until You Know About a Mattress's Insides

In the ordinary mattress, each spring is tied to the next by wire. When you press down on some springs, others near by go down too... forming a slope. The Beautyrest has "independent coils." Each spring is pocketed... separated from the next... yields independently to the slightest movement.

Don't Buy a Mattress That Can't Keep Its Comfort

A mattress that loses its comfort after a short while is no bargain. The United States Testing Company tested 17 different makes of mattresses. In these tests Beautyrest stood up 3 times longer than any other mattress.

Don't Buy a Mattress That Can't Keep Its Shape

Time is hard on a mattress. After a few years lumps may form... edges may sag and get wavy. Beautyrest has a special patented Sag-proof Edge. These edges stay erect and firm during the entire life of the mattress.

Chinese Girls Cheer Duquesne

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The undefeated, untied football warriors of Duquesne will have quite a story to tell their home folks of their 9-0 victory over St. Mary's yesterday, and no small portion of their tale will concern the most unusual rooting section of the season.

With most San Franciscans naturally siding with the Gaels, local fans were lacking to bolster the Dukes. So 40 Chinese grammar school girls, decked out in their oriental finery and sporting a drum corps, came to the game to make things comfortable for the visitors. They comprised the Duke "band" before the game, and afterwards sat on the Duquesne side of the stadium, cheering lustily for their heroes in a mixture of American slang and pidgin English. They were very satisfactory, too—for sojourners.

Pitt Students Are Celebrating

Pitt's 13 To 0 Win Over Fordham Is Cause For Big Celebration Today

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10.—Pitt students by the hundreds, well-wishers and just interested spectators in equally droves converged on the Pitt campus today to celebrate the Panther's surprising 13-0 win over Fordham.

Most of the students clanged cowbells and chain-danced around the stately Cathedral of Learning. Although the faculty made no announcement, it was generally understood that cutting classes would be overlooked.

"Pickets" who swarmed around the entrance to the cathedral urged students not to enter the building, and some of them invaded classrooms to persuade students already there to leave.

They carried signs "no school today," and also "goody Sugar bowl." The latter sign referred to Fordham which probably lost its invitation to play in the Sugar bowl as a result of the Pitt victory.

There were some indications, too, that Duquesne university students might cut classes to celebrate their 9-0 victory over St. Mary's yesterday. Students posted "no school" signs this morning, but faculty members tore them down, and reported that early classes were filled.

SPEED HOUSE DRIVE FOR VOTE ON NEUTRALITY

permit but one vote in the House—a vote for or against the amendments added to the armed ship bill originally passed by the House. The Senate amendments repeal the ban on ships entering belligerent ports.

"Means Certain War"
Taking up the cry of Senate foes against lifting neutrality act shipping restrictions, House opponents charged that a vote for the bill means certain war.

Administration leaders predicted certain approval of the bill by a margin of at least 30 votes. Foes refused to concede defeat.

Denying any intention to "gag" the opposition, House Democratic Leader McCormack declared that liberal-time would be granted for debate.

There is no disposition to prevent liberal discussion of the important question," he said. "The House will take up the bill on Wednesday, and debate may continue until late Thursday."

The purported plan to allow one vote on adoption of Senate amendments, thus avoiding the usual method of sending a bill to conference for agreement on differences between the two bodies, was characterized as "gag" rule by Rep. Michener (R) Mich.

Claims Gag Rule
"You can't have any more of a 'gag' rule than that, because it denies a chance for compromise," he said.

"If there were no rule a motion could be made to send the bill to a committee. The usual method is to send a House bill, which has been amended by the Senate, to the conference committee."

"Under the proposed plan there would be one vote, either for or against Senate amendments. Thus the chance for compromise through a conference is denied."

"It deprives the House of the right to have its conference committee meet with a like Senate committee and seek to uphold the House position."

Michener said "the vote will be close." He conceded that the administration has the edge in the fight.

Administration leaders gave Democratic Whip Boland the job of rounding up votes for the bill. Non-interventionists planned a series of conferences. Meanwhile, foes appealed to people throughout the country to deluge House members with pleas to oppose the measure.

Asserts War May Spread Over Globe

Churchill Voices Prediction That Western Hemisphere Will Become Involved

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 10.—A prediction that the war may soon spread to the western hemisphere was voiced by Prime Minister Winston Churchill today.

Churchill spoke as guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Lord Mayor of London at the Mansion house.

"The war that Hitler began by invading Poland," he said, "has now engulfed the European continent and broken into northeast Africa."

"It might well involve the greater part of Asia and may soon spread to the remaining fourth of the globe."

"Now a large part of the United States Navy is in action against the common foe," Churchill said.

"Now we have an air force which is at least equal in size and number—not to speak of quality—to the German air force."

The British navy, Churchill continued, is now strong enough to provide reinforcements for the Indian and Pacific oceans if necessary.

FRANKLIN AND WASHINGTON TO BATTLE TONIGHT

Junior High Title Prize To Victors

Will Be First Night Game For Either Team; Albert "Streak" Knight To Be Cynosure Of All Eyes At His Halfback Post; Both Teams Are Eager For Contest; Played As Benefit; Kickoff At 8 O'Clock.

George Washington High machine. The kickoff, provided the weather is right, will find the stands well filled.

The proceeds of the game will go to both schools to help defray expenses, and a part will be given to Coach Arthur Alexander of Washington High, who is battling a pneumonia attack in the hospital. The admissions are 25c for adults and 10c for children.

Both Are Undeclared
Both schools take the field tonight undeclared, but Franklin has a tie with Sharon as its only blemish. Franklin has played five games and Washington four games.

Eyes will focus on Albert "Streak" Knight, the colored sensational Washington halfback who has scored 49 points in the four games Franklin thinks that Knight will be easy to throttle. Head Coach Austin Commenowood, not content over the progress of this colored streak of glowing. He has made eight touchdowns this year, all of them on exceptionally long runs.

Henry Clark and E. Brothers are the other two Washington backs who will cause Franklin a headache, according to Bill Klee and Gig Thomas, who are coaching the Washington team in the absence of Coach Alexander. The Washington High line from end to end will outweigh the Franklin line. But the east side "Patriots" will not be outought, it was indicated.

Franklin Victory Hungry
Franklin High has not held the championship for four years. The scores since 1937 have been:
1937—Washington 7, Franklin 0.
1938—Washington 0, Franklin 0.
1939—Washington 13, Franklin 0.
1940—Washington 13, Franklin 13.

Totals 64 Totals 13
Coach Commenowood and his assistants, Bill Wallace and George Binder, have been working hard with the Franklin team and hope to have them "up" for the biggest battle of their lives tonight.

Franklin will show three clever backfield men also in Charley DeVito, a 128-pound bundle of dynamite, Eddie Jacobs, the big fullback, and Roscoe Williams, a fleet running colored halfback. On the line, the center, Ciccone, can be expected to play a whale of a game, as well as Pedula, a fine little center.

Expect Big Crowd
There has been rather a brisk ticket sale at the Sporting Goods Store and the schools, indicating a packed stadium at the kickoff. There is considerable interest being shown in this annual tussle.

Coach Arthur Alexander from his sick bed in the Jameson hospital will be eagerly awaiting the results of the game. He will more than likely be able to leave the hospital some time this week.

Titans Defeated By Grove City

Homecoming Game At Westminster Is Lost By 20-0 Score

ALL SCORING IN FIRST QUARTER

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 10.—On their 87th annual homecoming day celebration, Westminster's Titan gridirers disappointed a large homecoming crowd here Saturday to lose to an underdog Grove City eleven 20-0. All three Grove touchdowns came in the first quarter, with the first score made by the Crimson team on its first play of the game, a 75-yard drive over right tackle by Nugent, Grover back.

It was the eighth straight year that the Titans have dropped their homecoming contest in a tough-luck jinx for returning "old grads." The alertness and heads-up play that has characterized the Westminster team in its first six games of the season just didn't show up Saturday's contest.

First downs were eight for the Groves to six for the Titans, and after the first quarter, the Blue and White played the Crimson on even terms.

The loss to Grove City may prevent Westminster from bagging its first winning football season since 1928 unless the Titans can defeat Bethany in the closing game of the 1941 season, next Saturday. The Titan record now stands at four won and three lost.

The football loss, however, failed to check the gay spirit and dress of the campus, with dormitories, fraternity houses, and cooperative lodges decorated for both day and night effects in competition for the annual homecoming loving cups, which were won by Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and by Shafter house, cooperative lodge.

First Touchdown
The Groves first touchdown came three minutes after the game started when Grove City took the ball on downs from the Titans who bogged down on the Crimson 25-yard line. Cliff Nugent, Grover back, on the first Crimson play, carried the ball through Westminster's left tackle, 75 yards straight down the field for a touchdown. Smith kicked the extra point for a 7-0 score.

But the scoring failed to stop at the 7-0 mark. The Crimson continued their battering tactics as they blocked Newton's punt and recovered on the Westminster 30-yard line. From then on, the game belonged to a Grover back by the name of Penar, for Penar drove over guard to the 24, then around end to the 19, from where Nugent took it to the Blue and White ten-yard stripe. Penar again took over, and hit tackle to the 9, then to the 4, and again around end for the Groves' second touchdown. Smith again made good on the extra point.

DOZEN LONG ENDS
The dozen ends available for duty at Texas A. & M. are an average six feet two and a half inches in height.

FAVORITE TUNE

Favorite tune of the New York Yankees, a poll of the players disclosed the Hut Sut Song.

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Tennis in the United States has reached its lowest ebb in the last twenty years.

Heretofore there have been Davis cup matches and national championships of major calibre, but the United States lawn tennis association currently is faced by the greatest problem in its history. Some of the organizations affiliated with the USLTA have been threatening to kick over the traces for some time. The exact why and wherefore of this need not be dwelled upon at this time, however, here is a sample of what is going on.

The USLTA starts its playing year on April 1 instead of Jan. 1 as was formerly the case. This means that most of the amateurs have used up all their tournaments allowed by the USLTA long before the winter season starts in Florida. Putting it another way up until now, no matter how many tournaments the players may have been in, everything started fresh on Jan. 1, whereas, by the new rule, the amateurs have played all the tournaments permitted before they get to Florida.

Planning Tour
What goes on in Florida probably is not important per se except that an association is being formed there to take care of the situation through an outlaw tour which will make professionals of a lot of players who otherwise would remain amateurs.

Florida cities also are contacting Don Budge, Fred Perry, Bill Tilden and others to arrange competition that otherwise would have been carried out by the amateur players.

Presently he is located at Phoenix, Ariz., and his letters back east report he is happy and content and about to be recognized in that section as an official who knows what it's all about. Of course, he doesn't put it exactly that way, but it's obvious that wherever he may be he will stand out sooner or later as a qualified judge of athletic excellence.

but they didn't. Penar took Newton's punt from mid-field to the Titan 30-yard line late in the first quarter. And again it was "Penar's parade." Penar passed to Smith for 19 yards to the Titan 11-yard line, from where Weber drove to the Titan 5 and again to the 3. Penar then made good again as his sweeping end run carried him across the Westminster zero-line. Smith's kick was no good, and the first quarter ended 20-0.

Three Scoreless Quarters
After the opening tragic quarter, neither the Titans nor the Groves had sufficient punch to put themselves in a scoring position. Hopkins' excellent punting for the Titans kept the Westminster eleven out of hot water for the remainder of the game, and the Grover drive lost most of its original momentum.

Joe Mastro was inserted into the game in the second half for a concentrated passing-attack, but the Westminster tosses were batted down by taller and heavier Grover backs.

The game was marred by numerous penalties for both the Groves and Titans for "offenses" and "back-field in motion."

In the third quarter, Titan end, Joe Demoise, Greensburg, sophomore, left the game with a broken finger, to continue the hard-luck jinx that has hit the Westminster ends all season.

It was the final home game of four years of football for two Titan gridirers, Captain Pete Evanoff, Erie senior, and Mord Taylor, McKeesport back.

The summary:
Westminster 0
Grove City 20 0 0 0—20

Officials—Referee, Allison, Allegheny; umpire, Cutler, Pitt; head linesman, Goldberg, Pitt; Substitutes—Westminster: Hopkins, Shenke, Faulk, Harris, Taylor, Melville, Girdwood, Scheid, Fife, Wygant, Houston, Kusek, Mastro, Grover City: Lucas, Bricker, Olms, Hartman, Shell.

Touchdowns: Grove City, Nugent, Penar (2). Conversions, Smith (2) by placement.

Local Grid Teams Will End Season Coming Week-End

New Castle High's Clash With Warren, Ohio, Tops Local Program

TITANS TO CLOSE AGAINST BETHANY

Lawrence county's football warriors bid farewell to the colorful sport this week end with an appealing array of clashes.

New Castle's annual struggle with Warren, Ohio, slated for Taggart stadium on Saturday afternoon, tops the calendar. Undeclared and unfettered thus far, the "Hurricane" bids for one of the most memorable records ever strung together by a Bredenbaugh-coached machine.

Eye Clean State
With their eyes firmly focused on a perfect slate, the red and black clad favorites will unload their bag of tricks in the hopes of emerging with the season finale. New Castle seems in good physical condition following the bruising tilt with Youngstown East last Friday.

Westminster college also boards up the grid department by facing Bethany college, away from home on Saturday afternoon. On their way to a successful campaign, the "Titans" feel confident of closing the season with an impressive triumph.

Shenango At Greenville
Shenango Township, 1941 king of the Lawrence County Class B division, junks the molehills following its clash with powerful Greenville high, Friday afternoon at Greenville, Pa. Well rested after spending the past week on the sidelines, the Nocera-coached squad enters the pandjandrum confident of scoring an upset victory.

Bessemer closes by meeting one of its arch rivals, Lowellville high, Saturday afternoon in the Ohio town. Like in past seasons, the neighboring elevens are expected to stage a typical tooth and nail battle.

Ellwood City and Union Township, other county teams, have ended their seasons.

Volley Ball Loop Is Being Formed

The Y. M. C. A. will operate a volleyball league this year as usual. Play in the league will take place on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:15 o'clock.

All members of the senior division of the "Y" are eligible for the league.

Pitt, Baylor Spring Major Grid Upsets

Football statisticians are studying dust-covered archives assiduously endeavoring to parallel last Saturday's bizarre episodes stamped on the cold sods of many gridirons. Results of many of the clashes are almost incredible. Many of the elevens, known as "round-huek" in sports jargons, turned giant killers in grid situations much in the manner of a cubistic puzzle.

Pitt Finally Wins
Some 35 years ago or thereabouts, Minnesota had the dream team of a century, an aggregation impervious to defeat. That Minnesota team was dunked in defeat. This best describes Pitt university's 13-0 shellacking of the supposedly unbeaten Fordham.

The Rams were so sure of a clean slate and a post season bowl bid, that many New Yorkers had already packed grips for one of the bowl treks.

In ringing up victory No. 1, Pitt recorded the biggest reversal of the year. The triumph wasn't a fluke either. Led by Edgar Jones, Fife and Dutton, Pitt played rings around the supposedly invincible Fordham eleven. The Rams couldn't cope with the power and asprit of an aroused Panther band.

Another upset, on a par with the Fordham setback, was Baylor's 7-7 deadlock of Texas university. Hauled all over the gridiron and beaten by 48 points only a week ago, Baylor stemmed the power-laden Texas attack. Texas, however, played minus three of its varsity men. Even at that, a good team wins regardless.

Gophers, Dukes Win
With two of its acts in the discard, Minnesota pinned together its 15th consecutive triumph, turning down Nebraska, 9-0. The Huskers while they never threatened the Gophers' goal line, proved exceptionally stubborn. With only Iowa and Wisconsin left on the schedule, Minnesota should notch another clean season. Duquesne tripped St. Mary's in the far west, 9-0, to remain unbeaten and untied.

With Angelo Bertelli tossing strikes down the middle, Notre Dame rebounded from its 0-0 Army tie and torpedoed Navy, 20-13. Bertelli flipped 15 hand grenades, hitting the bulwark 11 times. Harvard, the team without an offense, smeared Army, 20-6. Penn university unleashed an aerial bombardment to nudge a stiff Columbia eleven, 19-16. Cornell won easily over Yale, 21-7. Uncovering an offensive attack that left the opposition befuddled, Penn State sparked a stout Syracuse machine, 34-19. By the time the Orange hit its stride, State had bagged the issue. Missouri prepped for its coming clash with Oklahoma walloping N. Y. U., 26-0.

Holy Cross had too much for Brown, 13-0, and Manhattan met unexpected resistance in notching a 12-7 edge over Boston university. Boston college a good big team duked Wake Forest, a good little team, 26-6. In a wild and woolly clash in which everything happened, Dartmouth finished with a 20-13 margin over Princeton.

Buckeyes On Top
In a tilt that left the scorekeepers a tired lot, Ohio State grabbed a 46-34 decision over battered Wisconsin. Cincinnati added to Carnegie Tech's woes, 20-0. Muskogee spoiled Washington and Jefferson's slate 12-7. Grove City walked off with a 20-0 decision over Westminster college while Slippery Rock found the winning formula again in whipping Edinboro, 12-6.

Georgetown rolled over Maryland

Monday "P. M." Sports Wash:—

Such crucial topics as government priorities and the struggle across the pond are being sidelined here this week—all because of the New Castle-Warren high football game. In the puns, poolies, and other spots patronized by the local sports fan, the coming clash is the life of the party. To help along the flock of verbal chats, we herewith present few facts and figures regarding the two teams. . . .

New Castle and Warren first met on the gridiron back in 1915. The clash ended in a 7-7 deadlock. After a lapse of 26 seasons, the schools renewed athletic relations. New Castle triumphing, 7-0. A 19-0 New Castle win followed in 1935. In 1936, the Bredenbaugh nudged the Ohioans, 13-12. The scoreless tie was posted in '37. Then, in 1938, Warren copped its first win over New Castle, 13-0. During the past two campaigns, the local favorites won, 7-0 and 33-0, respectively. . . .

In the eight embroils, New Castle crossed paydirt for 86 points. The Warrenites managed to string together but 32 markers. The out-of-state rivals scored in only three games, 1915, 1936 and in 1938. New Castle's most convincing margin was posted last year, 33-0. The Ohioans, it might be added, will

DURABLE DUKE
PITTSBURGH—John Matis, Duquesne university tackle, is one of the most durable members on the squad. Matis plays the position in a manner of his All-American brother, Tony, who earned his honor at Pittsburgh.

PRODUCES PROS
EAST LANSING, Mich.—Coach Charley Bachman of Michigan State College today can boast the distinction of having sent about as many players into professional football as any other college mentor in the nation.

ORGANIZED CHEERING
Organized cheering was on tap among the knot-holders at Eubank Field, Brooklyn. This marked the first time a pep section, such as can be seen in football stadiums has appeared at a big league ball orchard.

TRAP-SKEET SHOOT
Lawrence County Sportsmen's association members will sponsor another skeet and trap shoot at the New Castle fair grounds on Wednesday evening, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Omar Crocker, undefeated collegiate champion at the University of Wisconsin, is an army boxing instructor.

Knickknacks—Tony Lazzeri, who resigned his post with the San Francisco Seals, is shopping for a managerial berth. In 1941, Tony played in 102 games and managed to hit .224. Is football popular at Texas university? Dana H. Bible, the school's coach, draws down $25,000 a season. The figures represent more than that the salary paid to the college's president. . . .

In his first 17 punts, Sammy Baugh, Washington's famous passer, averaged 59.2 yards. . . . The unlimited substitution ruling in football is here to stay. Warren Team To Be Here Saturday

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Seeks Eleventh Win Of 1941 Season

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" football team will try on Saturday afternoon at Taggart stadium to make it 11 straight wins for the 1941 season when they face the big Warren high eleven. This will be the first daylight game of the local season at home. The kickoff will take place at 2:30 o'clock.

Warren comes here with a defeat by Massillon 21 to 0 and a tie last Friday night with Raven to mar its otherwise perfect record.

The Little Presidents will be out to avenge that 33 to 0 defeat handed to them last year at Warren. The New Castle team will resume training this afternoon.

Tickets for the New Castle-Warren game will go on sale on Tuesday morning at the Sporting Goods store. In the event of a nice day Saturday the biggest crowd of the year will be on hand for the battle. The New Castle team will be at its full strength for the Warren game, as no serious injuries cropped out in the game last Friday with Youngstown East High.

House League To Be Formed Again

The House basketball league at the "Y" will be formed again this year, it was announced today by William "Butch" Winters, physical director of the "Y."

All members of the senior division of the "Y" are eligible for the league, providing they are not members of the church league.

Applications for the league should be filed out at once. The league will operate on Monday and Friday nights at 7 o'clock. Applications can be secured at the "Y" desk.

Women Employed In Lumber Camps

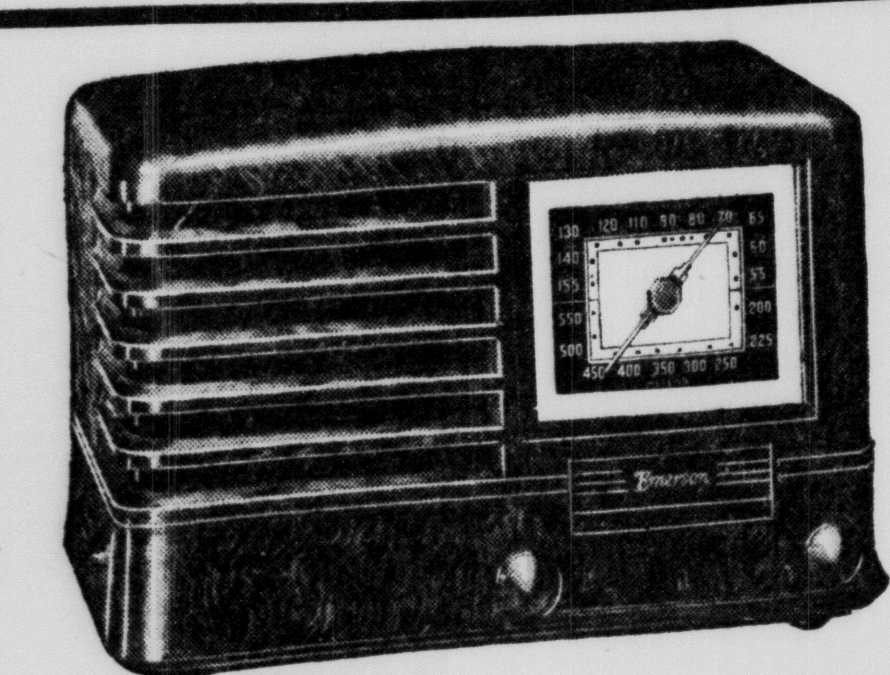

HARRISBURG, Nov. 10 — The inability to secure a sufficient number of men to satisfactorily conduct his lumber operations on one of the State Forests, caused the timber operator no little concern as he was eager to take advantage of the ready market for lumber.

After thinking over the matter he recollected that he had often seen girls and women handle teams of horses in connection with farm work. Why not employ girls and women as teamsters on his logging operations? It appeared feasible and today they are employed as teamsters in trailing logs from the cutting operations to the sawmill with satisfactory results.

FROM ME TO YOU
Before you forget... tomorrow is Armistice Day... won't you remember to display the good flag of the U. S. A. Let the Stars and Stripes fly in the crisp fall breeze. Quite a few stores will be closed and the parade will be one worth seeing.

It has been promised that the first week of December will be the starting point for the new bus system for the city of New Castle... that will be great. No more flat wheels and clatter in the dead of night. Maybe also it will be possible to extend the service... to those who live in Walmo and Highland Heights and other outlying sections of the town. And then the bus company could say... do your Christmas shopping by bus... no bother to park and easy riding buses are a pleasure to ride.

Tonight will be the first evening's entertainment by the Metropolitan Concert Guild... "The Marriage of Figaro"... in case you didn't get your season ticket you may do so this evening at the door... Four great performances will be presented this season... you can afford to miss them... so tonight at the George Washington Junior High School.

Only 37 more shopping days until Christmas... not very long my friends. Now is the time to get down town and look around at the wonderful selection of fine merchandise that our local stores have for you. Really we do have some mighty fine stores in New Castle... why waste money by paying higher prices and your car does use gas doesn't it and isn't your time worth anything. Just because an article costs five dollars out of town doesn't make it better than the same article here in New Castle at $4.95. Some folks sure have queer ideas about buying out of town.

Make a little extra cash for Thanksgiving... write a classified ad and sell something you no longer need. Twenty words for 40 cents. Nazis Are Using Reserve Stocks

Fuel, Food And Clothing Reserves Get Call In Russian Campaign

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The invasion of Russia is forcing Nazi Germany to dig deep into its reserve stocks of fuel, food and clothing, a department of commerce survey indicated today.

Reporting in its foreign commerce weekly on an exhaustive survey of Nazi economy, the department said that "unprecedented demands" upon reserves of manpower, war materials and transportation have forced Germany to depend heavily on its backlog of supplies.

At the same time, the survey pointed out that production of war materials has continued to increase despite heavier British air raids during recent months.

While no statistical data on Germany's war materials are available, there is every reason to assume that it continued to expand and reached new wartime records during the summer of 1941," the report said.

According to the survey, expansion was achieved by greater use of manpower and industrial capacity, both at home and in the occupied countries.

The department estimated that the Nazi war effort is costing about 70,000,000 Reichmarks per year, and that non-military expenditures are running approximately 20,000,000,000. In contrast, Germany's 1941 income from various revenues is estimated at only 100,000,000,000 Reichmarks.

The department added that Germany is using substitutes for synthetic gasoline and diesel oil because of the heavy demands for motor fuel for long hauls over bad roads in Russia. Liquefied butane gas, a by-product of synthetic gasoline, and wood gas are being used as much as possible, it was said.

Growing shortage of textile raw materials, especially hemp and jute, has resulted in rapid expansion of the paper yarn industry in the Reich, the report stated. The department estimated that at least 90 factories now are engaged in making synthetic yarn.

NEW ATTORNEY

A new attorney was admitted to practice in the courts of Lawrence county Saturday morning when Herman William Green was given the oath by Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar.

Usually the court crier, Clifford Vance, announces the administration of the oath and for this the new attorney pays one silver dollar to him. Not a paper dollar, not two halves, but a big round cartwheel. But Vance missed this one. He was absent Saturday morning and in his place Mrs. Mary Conti, court interpreter, officiated and took the silver dollar. It was the first time she had ever officiated in such a capacity and her service record in the court house goes back to 1900.

ONE SENTENCE

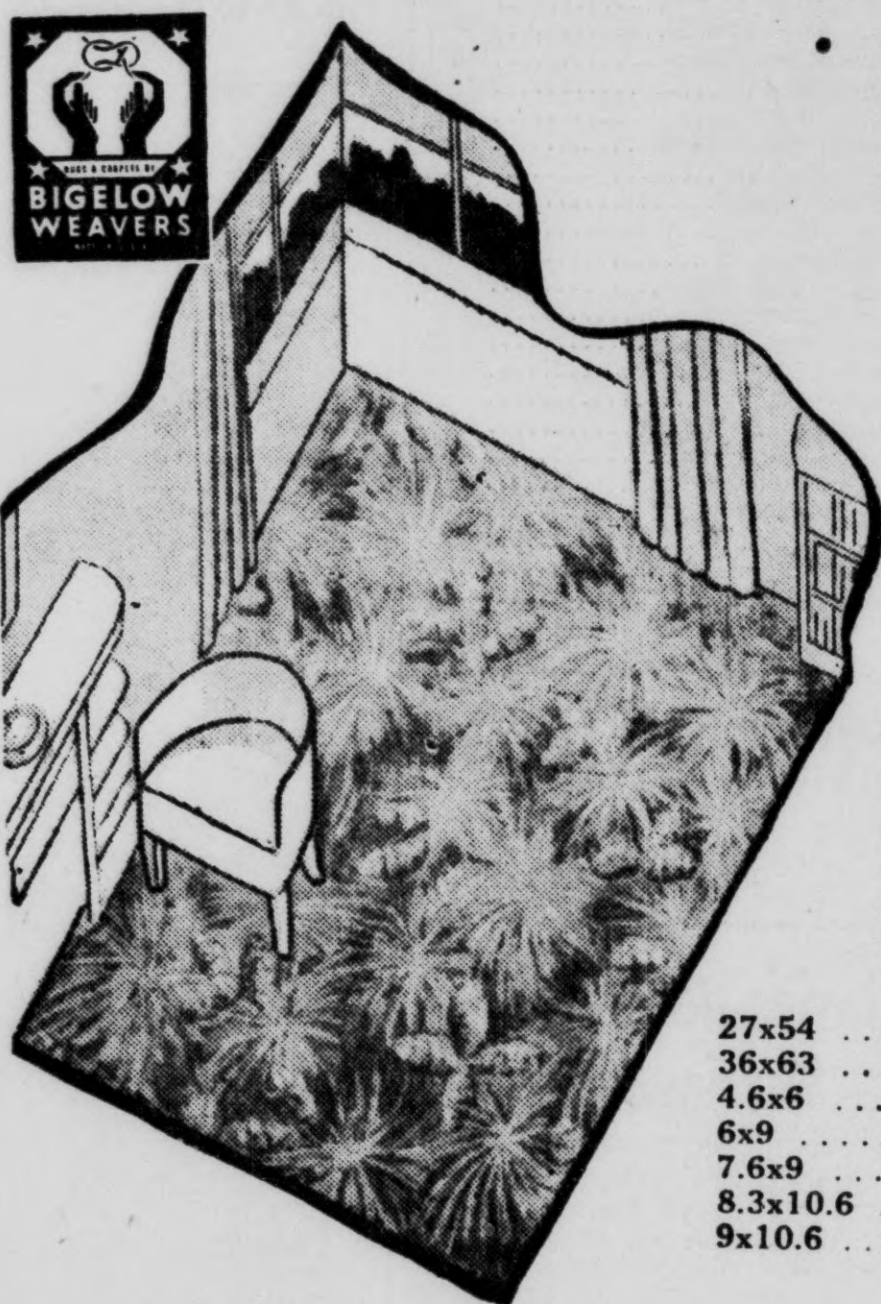

Oliver Cromwell Randall, up for driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor was sentenced Saturday morning to pay a fine of $100 and costs or undergo imprisonment in the Lawrence county jail for thirty days dating from November 1.

VISIT COURT HOUSE

Two Westminster seniors, students in the course of journalism visited the court house Saturday morning as a part of their laboratory work. The two, Miss Joan Thompson and Miss Zeigler, visited each of the offices and took a peek at the inner workings of the county government.
